11-year retention patterns

Latest-year keepers excluded from the yr1 → yr2 column (their fate isn't observable yet).

Pos	Yr1 → Yr2	Yr2 → Yr3	Total cap hits
QB	47% (n=19)	44% (n=9)	5
RB	24% (n=38)	31% (n=16)	8
WR	29% (n=48)	36% (n=22)	13
TE	46% (n=13)	0% (n=3)	2

Post-cap fate: of the 29 players who hit the 3-year cap across 11 years, 18 (62%) were re-drafted EARLIER the next year — forced drops are typically high-value early-round targets, not discards. (2 same round, 4 later, 5 undrafted.)

Of those re-drafted earlier: min R1, median R2, max R8.

Position-by-round ROI (2023-2025)

Mean season fantasy points scored by players drafted at each (round, position) across the 3 most-recent seasons. Superflex amplifies QB dominance.

Round	Best position	Mean points	Sample	Advantage
R1	QB	288	n=11	+77 vs RB
R2	QB	266	n=9	+36 vs RB
R3	QB	189	n=7	+19 vs RB
R4	QB	228	n=6	+35 vs RB
R5	QB	229	n=7	+65 vs RB
R6	QB	265	n=4	+131 vs TE
R7	QB	230	n=6	+76 vs WR
R8	QB	249	n=5	+116 vs RB
R9	QB	213	n=8	+118 vs WR

What to expect on draft day

- Round 1 board after keepers: Bijan Robinson, Jahmyr Gibbs, Ja'Marr Chase, Christian McCaffrey, Jonathan Taylor lead the available pool — top WR/TE keepers like Puka Nacua won't be there.
- QB cliff in superflex: 44% of yr2 QB keepers get held to yr3 (highest position retention) AND best-position-per-round shows QBs winning every round 1-10 in this league's data. Expect QBs to fly early.
- Forced-drop targets: 62% of capped players come back EARLIER the next year. The 3 forced-drop QBs (Geno Smith, Brock Purdy, Jordan Love) are exactly this archetype — plan to take them well before R11.
- Draft order TBD: Sleeper hadn't assigned 2026 draft slots as of this report. ADP will swing hard depending on who gets the kylefiggy / Chester A. Arthur acquired picks.
